BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with ; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held ; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms ; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. TO the jail for Alexandria county, as a runaway, on 21st inst. a negro man, who calls himself HENRY WILLIAMSON, alias JACOB ROBINSON. The said negro is about 25 years of age, and about 5 feet six inches high, of a yellow complexion; he had on a blue cotton jacket, and linen trowsers. When committed, he said he was the property of Mr. Elliot, of Baltimore, but now says he is the property of a Mr. Tyson, of the same place, and that he will be entitled to his freedom in a short time.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly ; had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. For Sale or Lease,

THE following tracts of land in Charles county, Maryland : one lying on the Potomac, at the mouth of Pomonkey creek, containing three hundred and forty acres, about 16 miles from Alexandria, the larger portion level land, of a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant sites for building of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding the most extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than twenty miles up and down the river : located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from its proximity to market, with the advantage of the best navigation, an extremely profitable farm.—The tenant's houses would accommodate the negroes for its cultivation.

A Tract, about one mile back from the former, containing 334 acres, a large portion in wood, white and red oak, and some chesnut ; the remainder, a tenement in tolerable repair, the whole a high stiff soil, similar to the one above mentioned.

A Tract, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles from Alexandria, the whole first rate flat river land, now completely enclosed.—On this tract is a noted fishery, called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of two thousand dollars per annum, and where, independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season ; besides the profits of the fishery, the advantage of manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, the whole, with a small portion of industry, might be made to produce ten barrels of corn per acre. On the shore, are a dwelling house, houses for holding salt, and curing any quantity of fish, and for the accommodation of hands.

A Tract, lying about 1½ miles from the last mentioned, containing 236 acres, more than 200 of which are in wood, and would cut from 25 to 30 cords per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord. It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots, to suit purchasers.—If preferred, the wood will be sold standing, for so much per acre.

If not disposed of, previous to the first day of Sept. next, the above mentioned arable lands, will be leased out, upon advantageous terms, for five or seven years, at the option of the lessees.

Application to be made to the subscriber, residing near the head of Mattawoman Creek, Charles county, Maryland.

IMPORTANT FROM SPAIN.

Extract to one of the Editors, of the Phil. Frank. Gaz. dated, U. S. Ship Hornet, Cadiz, May 29.

"I avail myself of the brig Laura Ann, for New York, to write you. We daily have reports from Madrid; but although they cannot be relied on, it is generally thought that his catholic majesty will take his own time to ratify the Florida treaty. The people here have a prejudice against the Americans. A striking instance of this occurred to day; It was the king's birth day; and the Spanish men of war were arrayed in the flags of the different nations. The English, French, Dutch and other flags held a distinguished place in the rigging; but the stars and broad stripes of Columbia were omitted. Our ship was decked late in the afternoon, and to mortify them, the Spanish flag was made to float at our foreroyal mast head. I am afraid, however that these fellows did not understand our intention, but thought we designed to honor or cringe to them. They have an idea that we greatly aid and abet the patriot cause, and consequently dislike us. They are a bigotted and pitiful set. I hope that we shall not remain here much longer; for I have no desire to be where the flag of my country is treated in a way bordering on contempt, though they take good care not to insult any of us. They will repent their unmannerly conduct, if we ever get a chance of trying our strength with them. The French and English men of war have treated us with politenesss and attention."

From the Norfolk Herald of July 16.

FROM GIBRALTAR.

We are indebted to our obliging and attentive Correspondent at Gibraltar, for the following extract, under date of June 22nd

"The Treaty was not ratified at Madrid as late as the 20th of May.*

"The Emperor of Austria being on a visit to Naples, and having communicated his earnest wish to see the American squadron, and particularly the Franklin, 74, Commodore Stewart, has gone thither with the whole of his force, and will doubtless make an exhibition that will delight and astonish his Majesty. This is a compliment to the American Navy worth receiving. Last year the French Ambassador (Count Laval, Duke de Montmorenci) came from Madrid expressly to see the Washington, but missed her.

"Markets unusually dull at present without prospect of improvement—Flour, dull at 38, rice 6—Kentucky Tobacco 10 dols. a 12 according to quality—other articles of your produce scarcely enquired for, and colonials have considerably declined."

* The writer in a former letter remarks that the treaty was not so well relished by the Dons.

Washington, July 19.

The French Minister, M. Hyde de Neuville, and his family, departed from this city on Wednesday last, on his way to the north, to take shipping for his native country, which he is about to revisit.

It is certain, that, at no time heretofore, have the Foreign Ministers resident here been more generally entitled to personal esteem, than, since the conclusion of the late war. M. De Neuville came among us under the disadvantage of a misapprehension of character. He was said to be disposed to be a sanguinary persecutor equally of the Republicans of France and of the friends of the Napoleon dynasty. He had been misrepresented; and he has, by his deportment whilst here fairly converted prejuduce into friendship and respect. In his public capacity, his conduct has we believe, been unexceptionable, and his disposition wholly amicable towards our government. [National Intelligencer.

Having published the advertisement of the Post-master of the city of Baltimore, offering a reward for the discovery of certain persons who lately attempted to commit a robbery of the mail between this city and that, it is proper to state, that, from information we have received, there is reason to believe that no such attempt was made, but in the disturbed vision of the driver, who, most probably mistook two honest foot passengers for high-way robbers. [Ibid.

Mr. S. B. BARNELL, Boston, has advertised that he can procure, by the agency of C. Barrell, Esq. the U. S. Consul at Malaga, the necessary Documents, from the Archives of the Spanish Court, to establish the claims upon the United States for spoiliations under the late treaty with Spain.

Baltimore, July 17.

A young man lately from England named John Eccles, was drowned in Harris's creek on Saturday last. He had gone into the water for the purpose of bathing, in company with two other persons, foreigners, & being unacquainted with the depth of the creek waded at about breast high until he came to a place where the bottom suddenly shelves to a depth of fifteen feet. He sunk immediately and was seen no more. His companions being equally ignorant of the place were deterred through fear from diving after him. It is remarkable that this accident happened in precisely the same spot where a similar fate befel a young man also a foreigner, some days ago, as was then noticed in our paper.

Bridgeport, July 14.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.

On Wednesday last, as a Mrs. Weeks, of Mill River, and Mrs. Lacey, of this place, together with a small child, were crossing the Yellow Mill bridge, near this borough, in a chaise, the horse, in attempting to turn round, precipitated the carriage, women and child off the bridge into the pond—where they must soon have drowned, had they not have been providentially observed by Captain D. Booth, who happened at that moment to be at his garret window. He instantly hastened to their relief, and with the assistance of others who were at his house, succeeded in saving their lives, together with that of the horse. We understand the ladies, though much frightened, received little personal injury. The child escaped unhurt.

New-Orleans, June 21.

MINA ALIVE FOR THE THIRD TIME!

The following remarkable story is extracted from a paper printed at Alexandria, in the county of Rapides. By way of comment, we would observe, that a band of adventurers, in the state of Mississippi and in the western part of Louisiana, are organizing themselves into the resemblance of an army, with the intention of making a predatory inroad into the neighboring province of Texas. The ghost of MINA, there is reason to believe, is again conjured up in order to encourage the raising of recruits among those who are silly enough to be duped by the artifices of these honest patriots. There is no fact more indisputable than the death of MINA.

Low in a ditch he bides
With twenty trenched gashes on his head,
The least a death to nature.

Independently of the credit that is due to the Spanish account of his execution, officially promulgated in the Mexican papers by the authority of the viceroy, it is further corroborated by respectable persons now, or lately, in this city, who were in the interior of Mexico at the time the catastrophe took place, and heard it described by those who assisted at it. [Gaz.

From the Louisiana Herald.

We learn, from a friend of ours lately returned from the province of Texas, the following circumstances relative to General Mina. The intelligence was obtained by our friend from one of the two young men, the only survivors of the unfortunate Col. Perry's party, and who were pardoned on condition that they would join the army of Spain, which they did, and were marched to Monteray, from which place he had just arrived. While at Monteray, in the month of November last, he saw and conversed with one of Mina's lieutenants, then at that place as a spy. He was dressed like a peasant, and sent by Mina to obtain an accurate knowledge of the situation of the place. He stated, that, after Mina and Perry separated, Mina went into the interior, where he succeeded in taking possession of several strong and important situations; that he still held possession of them; was then about to take a place called Sacatecas; that Mina had more than 3000 men, and arms and ammunition in abundance; that he gained ground constantly, and maintained his positions.—This young man had been sent to Monteray by General Mina, to confer with two priests that were his relations, and facilitate his views there. He had an engagement, and succeeded in defeating a regiment, the commander of which came into Monteray with his remaining force, and stated that his loss was great. The young man (Adams) made his escape from Monteray late in November last, in company with two Spanish soldiers, both of which are now in the neighborhood of Nachitoches, and confirm the existence of Mina; and state that nearly all the troops at Monteray are sent out against him. If it be true that Mina is still alive, and has been able to take and maintain a position in the heart of the enemy's country, and even seems to threaten Mexico itself, it is but too apparent that the people want to change their form of government, and cast off the one under which they have so long groaned. Never was there a more propitious moment for effecting their purpose—added to the entire independence of Chili and Buenos Ayres; the liberation of Peru and Venezuela, the successful operations of the Patriot arms in New Grenada & the Banda Oriental; the Spanish government, as every day more clearly evinces, is bankrupt in national character as well as funds.—Should New Mexico and Texas unite in the great cause, the consummation of the independence of all America will be soon and certain.

VALUABLE BEQUEST.

The London Morning Herald, of the 25th May, says, "The late Dr. William Adams who died in the East Indies in October last has left property amounting to nearly half a million of money, to a cousin whose name is NATER; who having proved unsuccessful in business, left England some time ago for the United States of America"

20,000 dollars salvage have lately been given to capt. Bowen of the British frigate Salsette, for assisting to save the British India ship Cornwallis. It had been doubted by some whether national vessels were entitled to salvage for saving merchant vessels of the same nation. But it increases the motives for exertion.

Extract of a letter from the correspondent of the editors of the Freeman's Journal, dated Hamburg, May 18, 1819.

I think the United States will not have much commerce with Hamburgh this year. Last year only 44 American vessels entered this port, total tons 10756. We have now in port, ship Geo. Washington, Whitney, of Philadelphia, bound to South America; ship Calpe, from New Orleans, for Philadelphia, by the 15th of June; brig Calcutta, from Boston, for Gottenburg, 10 days; brig Milo, fr. Philadelphia, arrived on the 16th inst.; the brigs Francis and Sally Ann sailed last week for New-York. There is nothing that can be sent from the United States to the North of Europe that will have a profit at present.

By my letters from St. Petersburgh, I understand the Hon. G. W. Campbell, (our minister to the court of Russia) has lost three children by sickness in 8 days, on or about the 1st of April—this is a mournful dispensation of Providence. Mr. Campbell is a great favorite in Russia. Such men as Mr. Adams, Mr. Campbell, and Mr. Pinkney, reflect great honor on our country.

Every thing in the political world, (as it regards the North of Europe,) looks very calm and quiet. The flag of the United States was never more respected than at present, thank Heaven.

Another letter, dated 14th May, says—"Our market is very dull, without any prospect of its growing better at present. It is overstocked with Sicily wheat, which is selling at great sacrifices. There is not the least demand for any article whatever of foreign produce."

From the New-York Evening Post.

HYDROPHOBIA.

We now redeem our promise by giving the statement of the case of James Cann, who was bitten by a mad dog, and cured by the plant called Scullcap, as drawn up and furnished us by his two physicians.

"Early on Thursday morning, the 10th June, I was called upon by James Cann, who requested me to dress his right hand, which had just been bitten by a dog that he believed was mad. Upon examination, I found the dog's teeth had penetrated deep into the muscular part of the thumb, between its metacarpal bone and that of the fore finger, and that the skin was but little lacerated. From the situation and depth of the wound, I deemed extirpation inexpedient, and directed superficial dressings, telling him at the same time, if the dog should prove to have been mad, he had nothing to fear, as a plant had been discovered, (shewing him a drawing of the scullcap, in the Evening Post,) which had never been known to fail in such cases, when properly administered. In the evening I saw him again, and then advised him to call on Jesse Williams, the son-in-law of the late Mr. Lewis, of Westchester, and procure from him a quantity of scullcap. He did so, and obtained about three ounces of the dried herb, finely cut up, with directions to put a tea-spoon full and an half of it in a quart of warm water, and to drink half a pint of this infusion morning and night, for two successive days, and on the third to omit it and take a tea-spoon full of flower of sulphur. In this manner Williams directed the scullcap and sulphur to be alternately used for forty days; during which time, exercise was to be avoided and an abstemious diet observed; he thought the wound required no other attention than simple dressing. Mr. Cann strictly followed the above directions, and remained free from complaint till Thursday the 17th. About noon he was suddenly taken ill, and sent for me. I found him laboring under frightful spasms of the muscles of the face and neck; his face was drawn towards the right shoulder, his head convulsively shaken, he ground his teeth with violence, his eyes had a wild and terrific stare, and his whole aspect was appalling; but the spasm soon subsided, and he became perfectly calm. Upon enquiry, I found he was first attacked with a shivering, then a pricking or tingling sensation about the parts bitten, extending over the hand and running up the arm, accompanied with slight involuntary twitchings of the muscles of the hand and arm; to these succeeded a sense of tightness about the chest and throat; immediately after which, followed the convulsive action of the muscles of the face and neck, above described. I found his pulse and breathing regular and natural during the intervals; but when the paroxysms were approaching, they became hurried and irregular, and continued so until the spasms had gone off, when he complained of slight pain in the right breast, together with a soreness and stiffness of the back part of the neck. Liquids he took without difficulty, nor did pouring water from one vessel to another, in his presence, produce any perceptible distress; neither did the sight of the surface of a polished mirror, or the waving of a white curtain, sensibly affect him.—His paroxysms returned at irregular intervals of from five to ten minutes, their duration being from one to two minutes. His bowels being constipated, I gave him a scruple of calomel, and directed him to drink his tea (which, upon inspection, I found very weak) as strong as it could be made—to take it warm, and in as large quantities as his stomach would bear—using it as his only drink."*

"16th. Early in the morning, Dr. Robson saw him with me, and continued to see him afterwards. We learnt that some unauthorised person had taken 10 or 12 ounces of blood from his arm the night before; that his cathartic had operated freely during the night; he had taken largely of his tea, and thought himself better; the spasms, however, still severe, but not quite so frequent. We directed him to continue his tea as yesterday.

19th. This morning we found him cheerful; he had passed a tolerably good night; feels much better than yesterday; his spasms moderating considerably, both in violence and frequency. He still continued his tea as before. In the afternoon, a shower of rain fell, at sight of which, and the rippling of the water in the gutter, his spasms returned in quick succession, and with more violence than they had done at any other time during the day, and produced in him such sensations, that, to use his own expression, he could not bear to look at it, and was obliged to turn away.

20th. "We saw him about noon; he was not so well; his spasms rather more frequent and severe; leaving him with a disagreeable feeling in his head, and an acute pain in the back of his neck. Upon inquiring whether he still continued his tea, he replied, that, at William's direction it was omitted for the purpose of taking a dose of sulphur; on which we immediately ordered his scullcap to be resumed, and not again to omit it, unless directed by us; he did so, and again found his spasms to subside.

"21st. He said he felt like a new man; his spasms had nearly left him; still continued in the use of his tea as before.

"22d. He had no spasms, nor did he complain of any thing but weakness. We directed him to continue in the use of the scullcap three or four weeks longer.

"July 13th. We saw him, he felt no uneasiness whatever, and has been free from complaint ever since we last visited him.

"To enable the reader to form just conclusions respecting the character of the above case, we will state the result of our enquiries and observations, concerning the rabid state of the animal which had inflicted the bite.

"The dog was young and gentle, and had never shown marks of ill temper until the day before he bit Cann, when he snapped at and attempted to bite a man, without provocation, who heretofore had been familiar with him. He was confined over night, but broke loose early the next morning, the 10th, when Cann on his way to work met him—the dog came trotting along, and Cann thinks would have gone on without noticing him, if he had not when opposite called him by name, and was in the act of patting his head when the dog seized him by the hand, made two snaps, and passed on without looking up; a few yards further he snapped at and quarrelled with three strange dogs; he next bit a neighbor's dog with whom he was accustomed to play, and as an apprentice of his master was attempting to tie him with a rope, he snapped at and tore off a part of his trowsers.

"Behaviour like this, so opposite to his usual mildness, excited serious apprehension: he was immediately tied in a wood house. While thus confined, he eat sparingly, but lapped water freely; he snapped at his master; was restless, howling violently, and knawing furiously at the door of his prison. By the evening, when we saw him, he had gnawed a large hole through the door, in doing which he had lacerated his mouth, and broken off several of his teeth against the nails of the batting—At this time, after many attempts, he lapped a little water, and then upset the vessel which contained it; refused food, and snapped at the approach of his master; his eyes were watery and dull, sometimes closed, then suddenly opened, when he snapped at imaginary objects. He now broke his rope, and as no one dared to approach him to replace it, believing him mad, he was shot. Our next enquiry was after the dogs which had been bitten by this one, but we found they had all been destroyed, except the one last mentioned.

"This dog was secured the same day he was bitten, and put in a cool, airy and dry cellar; he was regularly fed, and continued well until the 6th of July. He then began to show symtoms of canine madness; the under jaw fell; his food dropped from his mouth, when he attempted to eat; he made many efforts to drink, frequently burying his nose in the water, but did not appear to swallow; he was obedient to his master's command; was dull and moping, but would occasionally snap at imaginary objects, in the air or on the floor; his eyes were languid and watery, and considerable frothy saliva was discharged from his mouth In the course of the next day, (the 7th) he was much weaker, particularly in the hinder parts, producing slight staggering; his tongue was lived and brown; slimy fluid was observed to run out of his mouth.—On the 8th, he would snap at his chain, or any objects that touched him; was thirsty, and lapped water very frequently, without being able to swallow any; his tongue was darker, and his debility increased rapidly; he would not eat, and staggered very much when he attempted to walk.

"9th. The dog appeared much weaker; seldom got up except by compulsion, and soon fell down again. He appeared blind in his right eye—his back much curved.

"10th. He was unable to stand; had spasmodic twitchings of all his muscles; would yet snap at any object that touched him; towards evening he grew worse, and died some time in the night.

"The above statement of facts was drawn up for publication at the request of several gentlemen, and is submitted without remark.

(Signed) { W. STILLWELL.
{ BENJ. R. ROBINSON."

* Mrs. Williams, the daughter of Lewis, being informed of Cann's violent attack, sent him word, by his wife, that he must make his tea as strong as lye, and drink it warm, and as much as he could bear.—Ed. Ev. Post.

Lands for Sale.

BY VIRTUE of a power of attorney from William S. Courts to the subscriber, will be sold at public sale,

On WEDNESDAY, the 18th AUGUST, in Port Tobacco, that valuable tract of land whereon John H. Barnes, at present resides, called lying and being in Charles county Maryland, containing between three and four hundred acres. This land is handsomely situated, lying immediately on Mattawoman Creek, at least one third of which is in wood, with a sufficient quantity of marsh land for grazing—that part of the land which is in cultivation is well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat and tobacco, and with proper care would be equal, if not superior to any land in that neighborhood.

ALSO,

At the same time and place, will be offered for sale the plantation at present in the occupancy of Francis & Sam'l Wheeler, lying about one mile from the above place, containing about four hundred acres. As it is presumed that persons wishing to purchase will first view the premises, it is thought unnecessary to give a more particular description thereof. The terms of sale will be as follows: viz. possession given on the first day of January next, at which time one third of the purchase money will be required, the remaining two thirds at one and two years the purchaser giving bond with approved security with interest.—Upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a sufficient deed will be executed to the purchaser.

Sale of Valuable Land.

BY virtue of a deed of trust, the subscriber will offer at public sale, at Mr. Hardy's tavern, Piscataway, on Thursday, 5th August, next, several tracts or parcels of land, on Mattawoman Run, about three miles from Piscataway, lying partly in Prince George's county, and partly in Charles county, called and known by the names of Strite, Bonton enlarged, Friendship & Smallwood's meadows, Thompson's Hoop Thickets, and four acres of land adjoining, containing in the whole 420 acres 1 rood, 18 perch. more or less; which said lands were heretofore conveyed by Thomas Mundell, esq. trustee for the sale of the real estate of N. Blacklock, late of Charles co. deceased, to N. F. Blacklock, late of Alexandria, and by him to the subscriber.

These lands have been, I am told, considerably improved lately by the use of clover and plaster: their susceptibility of still further improvement by these easy means, and their nearness to the Potomac, render them certainly very desirable.

Terms of sale—two thousand dollars to be paid on the day of sale, and the balance on the 1st day of January, 1820, when possession will be given. Upon the payment of the whole of the purchase money, the subscriber will execute a good and sufficient deed, conveying to the purchaser all the right and title of the late N. F. Blacklock, subject to the widow's dower.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25
